Upgrades to HRDF deliveries from February 2018

The following upgrades/changes are planned for February 2018:

- Bit field files: only those operation periods that are required for the exported timetable data will be exported (up to this point all operation periods of a timetable period have been exported).
- All other changes have no effect on the structure of delivered files.

Planned release launch date in February 2018: 6 February 2018
